erra verranterranterranterranterranterranterranterranterranterranterranterranterranterranterranterranterranter amorlo.

NEW YORK, TUESDAY, JANUARY 22, 1889.

DEFENDED THE FLAG

Patriotic John Lynch Is Marched Off to the Lock-Up.

THE STAB-SPANGLED BANNER, LONG MAY WAVE."

"The Evening World" Goes to the Rescue and Pays His Fine.

It Doesn't Approve of Creating Disturbances, but Is Always Willing to Aid a Patriot.

"Do you uphold the Germans in shooting at the American flug ?" demanded the Irish-at the American flag (" demanded the Irishman.

"I de," hotly replied Scheland.

This was enough, the Irishman's blood was boiling; he jumped clear over the bar and would have felled the proprietor to the floor had he not dedged from the wrath of his customer. The Irishman swung around his fists with such force that he sent them crashing through two panes of stained glass. Lynch threatened to make the bones of every disloyal man in the place sore and would have done it had not Officer Beatty, of the Sixteenth Precinct, club in Land, rushed in and arrested him.

Lynch was led before Justice Patterson at Jefferson Market and there he maintained his right to defend the American flag. The Justice fined him $10.

THE EVENING WORLD paid this man's fine this morning, because it admires his patriot-

Lynch is a 'longshoreman. He lives at 352

JOHN LYNCH, Who would brook no insult to the starry flag.

West Forty-fifth street. He is married and has one child, a little girl. He is a sober, industrious fellow generally, but yesterday fell in with some congenial company, and took s few drinks too much.

He was not quarrelsome or noisy, however, when he entered Charles Scheland's saloon at the corner of Thirteenth avenue and Twentyfourth street.

He stood at the bar and quietly called for a glass of beer. He was alone then. Several men stood at the other end of the

"The Germans were quite right in hauling down the Stars and Stripes and shooting it if they wanted to. They could burn it, too, and it would be a small loss."

Lynch was born in Ireland, but when he came to the United States he renounced allegiance to every other power, and became as thoroughly Appears.

came to the United States he renounced allegiance to every other power, and became as thoroughly American at heart and in sympathy as possible.

Therefore, these scathing allusions to the flag of his adopted country hurt more than a blow in the face would have done.

He could not believe that he had heard aright at first, and the glass of beer that he was raising to his lips fell with a crash on the floor.

was raising to his lips fell with a crash on the floor.

"What did you say?" he gasped, turning to the group at the end of the bar.

They looked at the brawny and excited Irish-American for a few seconds, and he looked so fierce that no one spoke. At last one bolder than the rest said:

"We declared that the Germans had a right to pull down the American flag in Samoa if they wanted to."

"Well, by the Almghty, if they haul it down they will put it up again, and here stands a man who will help to make them do it," and he brought a big toil-hardened fist down with a mighty bang on the bar in front of him to give emphasis to his declaration.

The others, who were evidently strong symphathizers with Germany, did not care to answer him, but Proprietor Scheland, behind the bar, took up the cudgels for his hind the bar, took up the cudgels for his countrymen and asked: "What right have the Americans to inter-fere with the German Government in another land?"

"The Americans interfere with no one," answered Lynch. "Secure in their might, they pass over with contempt many insults that would plunge any European country into bloody war. As in the days when England tried ito browbeat them, they stand a good deal before they get their mad up, but when they do get in a passion, look out. You have had an example quite recently when that town of Hayti had to knuckle in the most humble way. It will be so with the Germans, too, when our war ships get to Samoa." ships get to Samea."
With every word he uttered Lynch became again and again, until the glasses on it and the bottles on the shelves behind the bar ingled.

He concluded by asking the question, introducing this article, and upon receiving the answer quoted above vaulted over the bar at one lound and went for Scheland tooth and nail.

The latter's bartender went to his assistance, but a vicious blow straight out from the shoulder from Lynch caused him to retreat rapidly.

He rushed into the street with the other rapidly white, while Lynch chased

He rushed into the street with the other customers, yelling police, while Lynch chased the proprietor about, shricking:

"Three cheers for the red, white and blue!" He was quieted only by the arrival of Policeman Beatty, of the West Twenticth street station, who, with uplifted club, entered and proclaimed peace.

Lynch accompanied his captures quietly to the station-house and thence to Jefferson Market Police Court, where Mr. Scheland made a charge against him, stating that in his rage Lynch had punched his fist through two costly panes of stained glass.

When asked what he had to say, Lynch answered:

answered:
"I have nothing to say. I could not sland by and hear my country's flag insulted, so I sailed in to whip the gang, and I guess I would have done it if they had stood their ground."

ground."
While appreciating his patriotism, Justice Patterson could not overlook the breach of the peace that he had committed and fined him $10.

Lynch's wages have not averaged that per Week since Winter set in, and he had not the slightest expectation of getting his fine, but he never weakened, and with a stiff upper lip walked into the prison prepared to do tendare.

days.

When The Evening World courier despatched to secure his release arrived at Jefferson Market Prison this morning Lynch was in line with a motley crew of prisoners prepared to go to the island.

The Black Maria was at the door, and in two minutes he would gone, when the reporter said:

"The Evening World desires to pay Lynch's fine because of his patriotism."

No one was more surprised than Lynch himself. Keeper Lestrange made out his discharge papers and he left with the reporter, a free

On the way out they met Alderman Cowie, Is this Lynch, the patriot?"

"Why, I read about him in THE WORLD this morning, and was just going in to pay this morning, and was just going in to pay his fine."

"The Evening World is ahead of you," said Lynch.

"It generally is ahead of everybody," re-turned the Alderman.

BENNETT SIGNS WITH BOSTON.

The Great Catcher's Name Appended to a Contract for $3,500.

[SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD,] DETROIT, Jan. 22.—The great catcher, Charles W. Bennett, has signed a contract to play ball behind the bat for the Boston Club, at a salary of $3,500.

Bennett thoroughly understood before he signed the position of the Club under the new rules. Under the old rules the Boston directors would not have hesitated a moment in paying such a man as Bennett the salary he demanded. Under the new rules, however, this could not be done, and the Bostons were unable to pay the player more than they had sent in to President Young.

Bennett was promised at the time that he arread to come to Boston a select as lorge as Bennett was promised at the time that he agreed to come to Boston a salary as large as that of last season. Had he demanded at that time to be paid the figure that he afterwards asked he could have obtained the same. He is a man who loves his work, never shirks, and can go behind the bat day after day.

He is indeed a treasure, and he is fully worth the check of $5,000 that the Boston Club is called upon to pay by reason of his signing.

M'LOUGHLIN'S LITTLE BILL.

le Wants the $21,000 from Mrs. Helly for Lectures. Editorials and Articles.

The suit of J. Fairfax McLoughlin against the widow of John Kelly, the late Tammany chieftain, to recover $21,000 for literary services as the latter's secretary, came up today in the Supreme Court on a motion by the defendant for a bill of particulars.

It came out in the argument that the claim of McLoughlin was based upon services as the latter's secretary, came up today in the Supreme Court on a motion by the defendant for a bill of particulars.

It came out in the argument that the claim of McLoughlin was based upon services as the suprementation of the cought to eat anything he can lay his hands on with a relish. Of course he should not be fed with injurious food, but he should be huncry all the time."

'This unnatural appetite is one of the set signs of progress, and Sullivan has not got this. When he told me that he ate only three meals a day I was indeed surprised. He does not look like a man doing well. He is pale, to begin with an desides this best a foolish. Kelly for Lectures. Editorials and Articles.

defendant for a bill of particulars.

It came out in the argument that the claim of McLoughlin was based upon services as confidential and private secretary, in which capacity he wrote letters, newspaper articles and editorials and lectures for Mr. Kelly for a period of ten years.
One of the lectures was on the subject of duelling.

Judge Patterson, before whom the motion was argued, reserved his decision.

Little Accident on the Bridge

The switches at the New York end of the Brooklyn Bridge got out of order this morning

therican Cotton Oil	73779	19199	23225
Atch., Top & Sante Fe	41934	0.139	9337
Brunswick Land	17.	1,739	17
auada Southern	5136	0.139	9.1
entral Pacific	30	2513	39
Neve. Col., Cin. & Ind	58	58	58.
Chesapeake & Ohio	11994	31996	199
hicago Gas Trust	30%	3697	36%
Thie., Burl. & Quincy	10917	10994	109%
Iniongo & Northwest	1079	107%	1071
hesapeake & Ohio. hicago Gas Trust hic., Buri & Quincy hioago & Northwest hic., Mil. & St. Paul	0514	6556
hic., Mil. & St. P. pref.,		104%	1044
hic, Mil. & St. P. pref.	19857	1986	0834
	95	1975	125
Cameron Coal	2854	28%	22834
Col & Hocking Valley	2514	3/614	25%
Colorado Coal & Iron	3194	3154	313
Consolidated Gas	8254	8256	82
Dol. Lack & Western	140%	14156	140%
Delaware & Hudson. E. Tenn., Va. & Oa. 1st p/d E. Tenn., Va. & Fa. 2d pid	13037	137%	136%
E. Tenn., Va. & Ga. 1st pfd	65	65	65
F. Tenn., Va. & Fa. 2d pfd	22	22	22
linnois Central	114	11434	114
ake Shore Lake Erie & Western pfd	10256	10234	1013
ake Erie & Western pfd	5394	5354	53%
ouisville & Nashville	5746	57796	-579
Manhattan Consol	9234	9297	92%
Manhattan Consol Michigan Central	8534	8546	85
Mil., L. S. A Western pfd	9344	9392	93%
Missouri Pacific	7:214	73	729
Missouri Pacific. Missouri, Kansas & Texas	1334	1336	135
New Jersey Central	0814	0.834	981
New Jersey Central New York Central N. V. & New England	10884	LUMBE	1084
New York Central N. Y. & New England N. Y. Lake Erie & Western N. Y. Lake Erie & Western pfd.	4.5	4584	44%
V Lake Eric & Western	2856	2812	28%
V V Lake Prie & Western utd	117534	thirty.	6556
Norfolk & Western pfd	5034	5234	595
Northern Pacine ptd	6094	(10)14	605
Obio & Mississippi	12:234	19135	200
Ontario A Wastern	1.512	1532	3.517
Ontario & Western	3044	34754	30%
Pipe Line Certificates	Side	87	860
Philadelphia & Reading		4 N94	48%
Delimen Palson Car Company	19434	195	194
Pullman Palace Car Company	90	1969	100
Rome, W. 4 O. Richmond & West Point Ter	9434	9434	244
Richmond & West Point Ter. pfd.	7897	7.0	788
St. Paul & Omaha		23034	26990
St. Paul & Omaha wid	43/3	10.3	93
St Paul & Omaha pfd. St Paul, Minn & Manitoba	1004	100%	100%
St. Louis & San Fran	*3333	0.15	2.46
St. Double & Oats Francisco	7000	(0.242	11:22
St. Louis & San F. pfd	304	471	ent
Texas Pacific	20:327	6314	63:33
Union Pacific United States Express Wabash, St. L. & Pacific	77.75	75	7.5
Cutten arrane Palitees	444	171	131
Whitehall, ret to a Phillips, research	245	4.15	36.18

"Consols " and Philosophers "He who smokes thinks like a philose is an old adage. But he who smokes only sols" cigarettes is himself a philosopher.

IS HE A WRECK? BEN HARRISON IN TOWN

John L. Sullivan's Condition.

Fellow Is Not What He Used to Be.

He Does Not Think Sullivan Will Be in Condition to Fight Kilrain Next July.

When John L. Sullivan was in this city on his last visit, two weeks ago, he had quite a talk regarding his present physical condition and chances of regaining his former health typhoid fever and the reducing of super- known. fluous flesh.

The consultation, for such it was in fact, occurred in the cafe of the Hoffman House, and was listened to by quite a group of interested men, among them Billy Edwards, the ex-champion light-weight pugilist of America.

While Sullivan and Dr. Gibbs cannot be said to be personal friends, they have been acquainted with each other, and have always been amicably disposed.

Sullivan was sitting at a table with several friends, drinking excelsior, and smoking his usual strong eigars. He saw Dr. Gibbs at another table, and sent for him. They talked about Sullivan in plain terms, the doctor speaking his mind fully from a scientific standpoint. standpoint,
His conclusions, drawn from Sullivan's own

His conclusions, drawn from Sullivan sown statements, tempered by his knowledge of his profession, were revealed to an Evening World reporter this morning.

"When I shook hands with Sullivan," said Dr. Gibbs, "he said to me: 'Dector, sit down here will you? I would like to talk to down here will you? I would like to talk to you?

"I took a seat and said to him: 'Why, John, you are not looking well at all. You look pale. How are you getting on?'

"Oh, I am getting along all right, I will be tip-top in a few weeks.'

"No, you won't either, if you don't stop smoking those strong cigars and drinking that Excelsor water,' I said.

"These cigars don't hurt me any, do they?' asked Sullivan.

"Why, of course they do, man. They are the worst things you could get into your mouth, unless it is whiskey.'

"How much do you weigh?' I next asked him.

him. 'Two hundred and fifteen pounds,' said Sullivan.

"'Two hundred and fifteen pounds,' said Sullivan.

"No, you don't, either,' I answered him, 'you don't weigh over 185,'
"I then asked him to get on the scales near us and he said he was too lazv. I am positive he did not weigh over 190 at the most.
"I next asked John how his legs were, and he said they were not right. He said they were weak, some, and not as he wished they were: but he supposed they would pick up soon. 'I was obliged to use crutches for five weeks,' said John.

"Then I asked him about his appetite. He said it was good. He ate his three meals a day regularly.
"'Why, great heavens!' I exclaimed. 'You ought to eat every hour. You ought to be ravenously hungry and willing to eat anything you could lay your hands on!"

"You see Sullivan was at death's door, with a combination of typhoid and gastric fevers, and it was only by his naturally strong constitution and iron will that he ever pulled through. His disease was caused by indiscretion.

"Now let me relate to you some of the ind scretion.

Now, let me relate to you some of the facts about the condition of a man whose re-covery from typhoid fever is as it should be in order for him to gain strength rapidly.

"In the first place he should be hungry, as I told Sullivan. He ought to eat anything to smoke strong cigars or smoke at all, and he ought to be away from the excitement and he ought to be away from the excitement and evil influences of a city.

"Why, bless me!" said the doctor earnestly. "A man does not get over the effects of typhoid fever inside of from three to five years. Every one knows this who has experienced it in as serious a way as Sullivan did. I had it myself, and it was over four years before I felt that I was myself again, and then I was a better man than I was before.

"One good thing about typhoid fever is that if a man pulls through it safely he is left a new man and in better shape than beforeh was taken ill."

years. Every one knows this who has experienced it in as serious a way as Sullivan did. I had it myself, and it was over four years before I felt that I was myself again, and then I was a better man than I was before. One good thing about typhoid fever is that if a man pulls through it safely he is left a new man and in better shape than being a few man and in better shape than being a fixed by a serious a way for he was taken ili."

"Then you do not think Sullivan will be in a fit condition to meet Jake Kilrain in the ring next July?" said the reporter.

"No, most emphatically." answered Dr. Gibbs. "If he does stand the hard training necessary to make his body in fighting condition he will be the most wonderful man physically that ever lived.

"But he will not be able to do so, you can depend upon it. Now, I want you and everybody to understand that I am only speaking as a physician and from what I know of typhoid fever and its results.

"Personally I like Sullivan, but I think he is very unwise to attempt to train now for a great battle. He ought to go off into the country, as told him, and follow the life of a farm hand or wood chopper. Anything toget a way from his present surroundings, his eigars and his carbonated drinks. Lethim do this and eat all the plain, wholesome food this the can stuff, and he will build himself up as he should. But as for his training for a prize-fight, it is wrong and he should not be allowed to do it.

"He should be well and strong before he even begins to train, and he has got a long row to hoe before he will make himself well again, to say nothing of severe training, the strain of which every one knows who is at the contract of the first of the first of the strain of which every one knows who is at the contract of the first of the fir again, to say nothing of severe training, the strain of which every one knows who is at all familiar with pugilism. "Now, mind, I don't think he can do what he expects to do, but if he should do it, I will say he has the most phenomenally strong constitution that was ever heard of."

Dr. Gibbs was formerly a physician on the Dr. Gibbs was formerly a physician on the Board of Health and made typhoid his spe-cialty while there.

Said He Was Drugged and Robbed.

[SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD,] PLYMOUTH, Mass., Jan. 22. -Horace W. Wood an agent for the New Home sewing-machine, died yesterday under circumstances which may indicate tonl play. He returned from Boston Wednesday evening, stating that he had been drugged, knocked down and robbed of his over-coat, watch and money.

Found Dead with His Neck Broken. August Lipnard, a Russian tailor, was found in the hallway of his home, 52 North First street, Brooklyn, this morning, with his neck broken, He had been drinking last night, and presuma-bly fell downstairs.

A Medical Specialist's Views on He Gives an Interesting Interview on Politics and Politicians.

Dr. John W. Gibbs Says the Big Some Men Well Fitted for Positions in the Cabinet.

> Remarkable as It May Seem, Mr. Harri. son Voted for Mr. Cleveland in the Late Election.

Benjamin Harrison has been in town for Only a small circle of intimate friends with Dr. John W. Gibbs, of 248 West Four- knew of his presence though, and they did teenth street, the specialist in the treatment of not think it worth while making the fact

BENJAMIN HARRISON'S PICTURE TAKEN SOME

By the merest accident THE EVENING World learned of his whereabouts, and one of its bright young men at once proceeded to see and incidentally interview him this morning.

He was found alone in a comfortably furnished parlor, 367 Pearl street, this city, and responded with a hearty 'come in" when the reporter rapped at the door.

He was dressed negligently in a blue flannel shirt open at the neck, a pair of wellworn trousers, the ends of which were stuck in top boots; an old vest split up the back, and his hair curled naturally about his wellshaped head.

"I suppose you are tired shaking hands," said the reporter, as they clasped hands preparatory to doing the pump-handle act. " Not at all," returned Mr. Harrison. " In fact, I do not shake hands with people half as much as you might think I do." After expressing surprise at the statement, the reporter interrogated the gentleman as "I called to see, sir, if you have in mind

"I called to see, sir, if you have in mind the persons, whom, in your opinion, would make the most fitting Cabinet officers for the next four years!"

Mr. Harrison paused for several minutes before he replied.

"I would be glad to tell The Evening Wolld the names of the gentlemen to be selected, but really I cannot do so. I have no more idea than you have."

"We'l, would you keep any of the present incumbents?" asked the reporter.

"Perhaps. I think Fairchild might make a good holdover.

good holdover.
'How about Bayard?'' "He is too weak. His action in regard to the fishery troubles was not man-like at all. It requires a man of nerve in such an un-

How would Chauncey M. Depew fill the bill?"
"Denew is a very able man I believe. I have never had the pleasure of meeting him, but I think he would make a better Postmaster General than Secretary of State."
"Who would make an able Secretary of bill ?

State?"
"Well, if you press me, I think that Western man, Ingalis, would be the right man. He would see that our flag was not insulted every one with impunity, as it is now-a-

that he asked:
"Now perhaps you can make a good guess

Now perhaps you can make a good galess as to who will be the next Secretary of the Interior?" said the reporter.

Mr. Harrison gazed at him quizzically before he asked: "Now, how can I tell? ; What have I got to do with it?" have I got to do with it?"
"Oh, nothing—nothing, of course," returned The Evening Would young man,
"but just give a fellow a hint. Who do you think would make a good one?"
The rentleman thought for a moment and hen wrote this on a piece of paper:

"How would Senator Allison do?"
"First rate, if he suits you," returned the reporter orally,
"Well, he is my favorite also," Mr. Harrion admitted.
"By the way," said the reporter," did you by the way. Said the reporter, and you vote for Cleveland at the recent election?"

'I did." he frankly admitted, "but I turned out in the big Republican parade that wet Saturday afternoon and I got a bad cold so doing. However, I knew my vote would not injure B. Harrison's chances to any great extent. I was confident all along as to the result. You might have read in the papers throughout the country in those days that B.

A PROPORTION QUITE DISHEARTENING TO NEW YORK'S BLOODED DUDES.

for the Sprightly Guieties and Had Never Thought of the Manager-Brave Attempts to Drown Disappointment in Wine, Wit and Eloquence.

Accounts in the morning papers differ on the question whether a company of twentyfive New York dudes succeeded in entertaining any number of the London Gaiety Company girls at a sumptuous banquet after last evening's performance by the troupe in Brooklyn.

There is no disagreement, however, as to the pure-bloodedness of the dudes, the dainty pinkness of the previously issued cards of invitation to the reception and the fact that the affair, including the bill of fare, cost the noble twenty-five a straight $15 each.

"The pleasure of your company" was re-quested on the delicate cards which the lady members of the Gaiety troupe received even before they left Boston. That the pleasure would be denied was a thought which trou-bled not those dudish breasts, but then, the would be defined was a thought which troubled not those dudish breasts, but then, the boys had not counted on the manager.

The most rosenie and best confirmed account of the banquet, which was held at the Everett Assembly Rooms, in Fulton street, allows that but five girls were present; that these were brought in only after much coaxing, and that the spectacle of the disheartened chappies gathered about the stage door of the Park Theatre, begging for the girls that would not come, was putable in the extreme.

The dear boys were all in full-dress suits. They had sighed and simpered alternately and impatiently through the performance, cager for the after festivities. When it finally cause home to them that instead of having a Gaiety girl apiece they must be contented to sit like Dudley's floaters, "in blocks of five," with only one girl for each block, the sinking of hearts caused a perceptible collapse of white shirt fronts.

The five girls, it is said, did all in their

MAN HAS BOUGHT IT FOR $25,000.

The reported sale of the yacht Volunteer is an absorbing topic of conversation in yachting circles to-day. The fact of the sale has been kept a close secret, but it has leaked out in some way, and is now asserted as a positive fact.

Sinking of hearts caused a perceptible collapse of white shirt-fronts.

The five girls, it is said, did all in their power to make up for the lacking twenty. They told funny English stories, and one of them, discoursing on "Thin Tights and Winter Winds." gallantly defended the defection of Miss Lillian Russell from the ranks of the "Queen's Mate" company.

It is even alleged that one or two of the province recovered from the graying sufficient to the sale has the sale has been kept a close secret, but it has leaked out in some way, and is now asserted as a positive chappies recovered from the crushing suffi-ciently to be witty after the wine. Only one paper chronicles the fact, which the manager of the hall corrobarates, that an instalment of of the hall corrobarates, that an instalment of the rent money for the banquet-room was paid. Who were the dudes? Joseph Austin Far-ley, bless his dear little mustache! was the chief mover. Then there were Bob and Ed Kelly, sons of Mr. Eugene Kelly; Joseph Barker, H. H. Bleeson, L. Grimshaw, E. Bryan, St. Matthews, J. Holstead, Ted Fair-law, Cameron, who is fond of giving such suppers at the Standard, and Parker, who, like Farley, is a member of the Knicker-bocker Club.

NOW WAITING FOR OFFICIAL NEWS.

England, America and Germany and the Trouble in Samoa.

THE CABLE TO THE PRESS NEWS ASSOCIATION ! London, Jan. 22. The news brought the German gunboat Eber from Samoa has caused the British Government to hold its tion with Count von Hatzfeldt, and has no doubt been put in possession of all the facts from the German point of view.

There has been an active exchange of com-

There has been an active exchange of communications between Lendor and Berlin, and between both and Washington.

By common consent all parties have agreed to await tuil official details of occurrences at Apia and elsewhere in the Samoan Islands before taking definite action.

The German Government now seems to be disposed to treat the matter fairly.

The excitement at first shown in official arters over the reports from San Francisco own at present, and knew that he would not be there to-day.

"I heard only yesterday that he had gone out West on business. If he were coming here on any business connected with this department I would certainly know of it. He does not need to come to tawn to learn anything about the surger frauds, for he has all that in Washington, and so far as any changes here are concerned that is my affair."

West Virginia Miners in Trouble.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Jan. 22.—Gov. Wilson ceived a telegram this morning from Elkhorit, IcDowell County, stating that a mob of Poca-

PRICE ONE CENT.

SUICIDE AT BREAKFAST.

F. L. Rubsamen, of Hoboken, Shoots Himself This Morning.

He Was a Prominent Citizen and Worth $200,000.

Melancholia Given as the Reason for the Suicidal Act.

Frank L. Rubsamen committed suicide at about 8 o'clock this morning at his residence, 418 Garden street, Hoboken, by shooting himself through the left temple. Mr. Rubsamen was sixty-five years of age and had for a long time suffered from meian-cholin. The details of the suicide are shocking. Mr. Rubsamen, who was a retired banker, was to have sailed for Bermuds on Thursday. He came down to breakfast at the usual hour this morning. His wife and four sons were already at the

He acted so strangely that his sons' attention was attracted. Suddenly be jumped up from the table and went to the drawer of a cabinet, which be threw open.

He pulled it out and before any one could nterfere, put the muzzle to his head and pulled the trigger. As the report rang out he fell to the floor, blood gushing from a wound in his temple.

In the drawer was a loaded pistol.

He died almost instantly. A doctor was summoned and the Corone notified. To the latter the family said that they thought that sickness had caused him to commit the rash act. He had been suffering a great deal and had become melaucholy. Mr. Rubsamen was worth about $200,000.

He was one of Hoboken's most respected citizens He was President of the Hoboken German Club and the German Academy. GREENWALD HEARS HIS DOOM.

The Doubly Convicted Weeks Murderer to Be Hunged March 12. Public interest in the Weeks murder mystery was never more strikingly shown than in the immense crowd which flocked to Judge Moore's Court to hear sentence pronounced on the man who has been twice convicted of the murder. Those who could not gain admittance to the court-room waited outside for the van which brought the pale and brutal-looking prisoner from Raymond Street Jail.

It was II o'clock when he arrived, and found Judge Moore on the bench, and Lawyer Kinsley ready to do what is possible to save him from his fate, "John Greenwald, otherwise John dore Wild," called the clerk.

Greenwald arose and stood with bowed head.

After expressing his belief that the verdict of the jury was a just one and that Greenwald is guilty of one of the most atrocious crimes ever committed, Judge Moore sentenced him to be hanged March 12.

Greenwald made not a sign of emotion nor interest of the sentenced in the sentence of the se Greenwald mate not a sign of emotion nor intered a single word. Immediately after sentence he was taken back to Raymond Street Jail, where he will remain until hanged.

It is nearly five years since an execution took place in Brooklyn. The crime for which Greenwald is to die is the murder of Lyman S. Weeks, of 1061 De Kalb avenue, two years are.

years ago.

PRESIDENT YOUNG NOT SURPRISED. He Does Not Know What City Will Succeed Indianapolis in the League.

ISPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.] WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 22,-President Young was not altogether surprised at the report printed in to-day's papers relative to the collapse of the Indianapolis Club. To THE EVENING WORLD correspondent he said: "There has been some little trouble in the Club I understand for several months, but I had not expected it would cause the collapse of the organization.

"As to the action the League may take with regard to the Indianapolis Club or its successor I cannot now say.

"You may be sure, however, that the firm foundation of the National League would be in no degree shaken."

Clifton Entries for To-Morrow. (SPECIAL TO THE WORLD,)
RACE TRACE, CLIFTON, N. J., Jan. 22.—Here

First Race - Purse 8750 six and one-half furlongs; selling allowances. - Fred Davis, 110. Silver 8842, 110; Lakwwood, 110. Affred, 110. Mattle Looram, 105. Esterbok, 100. Relax, 105. Avery, 100. Kiamet, 95; Sing Arthur, 95; G. W. Boyden, 95; B. Second Race - Purse 8250; mile and an eighth; selling allowances. - Amber, 112; Tenstrike, 112; Quincy, 112. Lattlefellow II., 117; Gounod, 118; Carrie G., 114 Lattisfeilow H., 17, thousands, seven-eighths of a mile. Duke of Bourton, 120, Speedwell, 118; Glondaie, 112, Ovid, 111; Hida, 104; Paiatka, ib ib. Fourth Race-Pures $250, seven-eighths of a mile; selling allowances. Kingslord, 119; Harwood, 119; Monte Cristo, 119; Wheat, 113; Veto, 11d; Freelanes, 113; Sam Parker, 110; Ban Hope, 110; Sater Euphrasia, 105; Anjie, 100; H. Huth Race-Pures $250, seven-eighths of a mile; selling allowances. Van, 122; Howerson, 119; Lorra, 119; Slasher, 119; Fountain, 110; Harrodaburg, 116; Duples, 113; Belmont, 113; Pendennis, 113; Bag Ridge, 110 lb.

The Baby Saved Their Lives.

Baby Williams saved a whole houseful of persons from getting roasted alive'at 2.15 this morning, at the home of its grandma, Mrs. Melissa A. Williams, 45 East Twenty-second street. Fire ate its way from a defective and go on the war path for the scalps of a few citizens.

George Young, the Pugilist, Dead.

[special to the evening would, 1]

Bostron, Jan. 22.—George Young, the bantam pugilist, 18-4 here this morning of an abscess in he throat.

Struct. Fire ate its way from a defective fine in the adjoining house, No, 43, and spread over the roof of No, 45, who is only seven months old, cried woke up its mamma. Mrs. John C. Williams, Young Mr. Van Venten on the fourth floor, and had a very narrow escape from death, while a dozen other inmates had to scamper out for their lives.

THE LATEST FROM CORNELL.

If You Wish to Transform a Quiet, Peaceful-Looking Chap Into a Shrieking Fiend, Just Give Him a Friendly but Energetic Grasp on His Recently Vaccinated Arm.

the reporter.
'If the Canadian people desire sunexation they will have it, and you remember some day that I told you so," was the sententious day that I told you so," was the sententious rejoinder.

"If you were President, now, how would you treat the trouble in Samoa?"

"By arbitration with Germany first, if possible. If not able to come to some amicable agreement I would direct the Secretary of the Navy to despatch warships enough to the spot to wipe every Dutchman there off the face of the earth."

"Are you in favor of wine in the White House?"

"Are you in favor of wine in the White House?"

"I have not given much attention to that yet. I am not much of a wine bibber. Beer is my favorite beverage."

"Then you are a German by birth?"

"Oh no. I am a Swede. I came to this country though, when I was nine years old, and am thoroughly Americanized."

"How did you come by the same name as the President-elect?"

Mr. Harrison laughed genially as he answered:

"Oh, I don't know. It is an old family name in our family."
"Have you ever seen President-elect Harrison?"

"Never, but judging from his pictures I do not look much like him," he replied laughingly.
"You don't," admitted the reporter. Benjamin Harrison, above referred to, is a longshoreman and lives at 367 Pearl street. He has been in this city for about eighteen years. He has a wife and five children.

Mrs. Harrison wears a bustle.

IS THE VOLUNTEER SOLD? A REPORT THAT A SEAWANHAKA CLUB

MAN HAS BOUGHT IT FOR $25,000.

fact. Mr. Samuel Holmes, of 120 Front street, a ship broker and a member of several yacht clubs, told an Evening World reporter this morning that the sale was consummated last week, and the price paid was about $25,000, week, and the price paid was about $25,000, and that the purchaser was a member of the Seawanhaka Yacht Club.

Mr. Holmes further stated that Gen. Paine's reason for selling the Volunteer was on account of his desiring to possess a smaller yacht, the expenses of keeping the Volunteer being something enormous eing semething enermous.

Mr. W. B. Sunones, the Treasurer of the Seawanhaka Yacht Club, denied any positive knowledge of the sale, except what he had learned through rumor.

Gen. Paine's Denial.

(special to the evening would,)
BOSTON, Jan. 22.—Gen. Paine was seen at his ffice this forenoon by THE EVENING WORLD COTrespondent and asked if there was any basis of respondent and asked if there was any basis of truth in the reported sale of the Volunteer.

"I know nothing of such a sale," said the owner of the champion sloop. "If she has been beight it has been done without my knowledge." "Have there been any negotiations looking to "None whatever. I have no idea who the chiteman is who is referred to in this story."
"What do you suppose was the origin of the port;" 'I can't tell that. Of course it is known that e Volunteer is for sale, and it is possible that me one has been talking about it." RUNNING DEER FOUGHT IN EARNEST.

Capt. Jack Crawford's Desperate Encounter , with a Drunken Comanche.

[SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.] CINCINNATI, Jan. 22. - The audience at the Standard Theatre were treated to a Western has subsided. scene last night that was very exciting and decidedly more realistic than the programme announced.

It was in the act of the melodrama where Capt. Jack Crawford, the Scout, and Running

Deer, a chief of the Comanche tribe, fight

According to the play the scout should have taken the knife from the redskin, but the latter had, during the day, imbibed too freely of Cinciunati fire water and did not propose to be cowered by a pule face, and fought to It was a desperate an I hard-fought battle, It was a desperate and hard-fought battle, with long and sharp knives.

The struggle lasted several minutes before the scout got the best of the Comanche.

Not until he had pricked the reaskin several times in the side and told him he would be killed if he made any further hostile demonstration did Running Deer give in.

Running Deer, after being overpowered by Crawford, left the theatre and has not here seen since.

oy crawford, left the theatre and has not been seen since.

The police are looking for him for fear he might imagine himself in his native wilds and go on the war path for the scalps of a few citizens.

Lord Salisbury has again been in consulta-

Hends Safe in the Appraiser's Stores To-Day Acting Appraiser Steams said this morning that he did not expect Secretary Fairchild in Turkey Gap Coal Companies men from work, if violance had to be used. The Governor answerd that he would use all the power at his companied to quell any disturbance. Trouble is hourly expected.

18